It's probably something quite easy that I have missed, but would be grateful if someone could show me the right way to do this :) Here is my code: $member = Member::find($id); $sub = Subscription::filter('member_id', '=', $member->id)->get(); return view('member.member', compact('member','sub')); A: Try this: $member = Member::find($id); $sub = Subscription::where('member_id', $member->id)->get(); return view('member.member', compact('member','sub')); OR: $sub = Subscription::find($id); return view('member.member', compact('member','sub')); Q: Is there a continuous map from \mathbb{R}^2 to \mathbb{R}^2 Is there a continuous map from \mathbb{R}^2 to \mathbb{R}^2 ? I tried taking a map from \mathbb{R} to \mathbb{R} and composing with my map, but I was having trouble even showing there exist a map from \mathbb{R} to \mathbb{R}^2 . Any tips?
