The U.S. House of Representatives is at a standoff with House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi. Pelosi told her conference in a closed-door meeting this morning that she's not prepared to accept a leadership position from Speaker John Boehner if he takes control of the chamber, according to a source present in the meeting. Rep. John Larson, D-Conn., who took over the gavel this week after Pelosi's longtime protege, Rep. Xavier Becerra, D-Calif., had to relinquish the position, confirmed to Business Insider that Pelosi expressed her intention to stay put as speaker if Boehner takes the gavel. Pelosi's announcement came the day before Boehner's toadie at the Heritage Foundation, Rep. John Boehner of Ohio, wrote a column for Fox News in which he touted himself as the heir apparent to keep the Republican Party together. News of Pelosi's staunch defense of her position came a day after Boehner's ascension to the speaker's post was confirmed by the full Republican Conference. After the meeting, Larson told reporters he disagreed with Pelosi's assertion that she could not accept Boehner's offer. "I think she is on the wrong path," Larson said. "She is turning her back on Democratic values." Larson said Pelosi discussed her decision not to accept Boehner's offer to become House minority leader with Democratic colleagues before Congress recessed for a two-week vacation. He said she told colleagues she might accept Boehner's offer, but on Friday would not, Larson said. "This is big news and this is a big moment," Larson said. Larson said he believes Pelosi is sticking to her stance to remain speaker, but may accept a position in the minority or step down if that is what the full Democratic Conference decides. "She has not really specified what she will or will not do," he said. "I think she has done a pretty good job of taking the temperature on the Democratic Conference." Larson said that if Pelosi stepped down, it could change the Democratic Conference's feelings about running in the future. "I think she has earned a certain goodwill amongst her colleagues. If she vacates that spot, there is a chance that some of us won't run again," he said. Larson said he believed an internal Democratic power struggle, in which Pelosi plays a major role, will help him win re-election in 2014. Larson is considering running for re-
