Applying the player likenesses captured by 23 cameras situated around the pitch at all corners and at the center of the play area delivers a depth of realism that previously wasn't possible to simulate on the pitch. A unique feature of "HyperMotion Technology" is the inclusion of the individual player's body shape, when viewed from the camera, which results in the player's body shape affecting their on-the-ball movement. This subtle but important addition not only adds a more realistic, believable and immersive experience but also furthers the creation of a player-driven FIFA experience. The "FIFA Experience," introduces "Next Gen Player Intelligence," a set of data-driven game mechanics that recognizes the individual player's style of play, adding a new layer of intelligence on the pitch. Also new in FIFA 22 are the addition of five new scenarios (Next Gen Player Intelligence, Dribbling Intelligence, Defensive Intelligence, Tactical Defending Intelligence and Man on the Ball Intelligence) in the new "Story Mode," which allows users to experience the life of a premier footballer. Players can take their manager's advice to create their ultimate team and choose their squad, make decisions in real time, and choose to play without the strategy of the in-game CPU. FIFA 22 will be available for PS4 and Xbox One in early August, with the PC version available later that month. Watch our FIFA 22 gameplay trailer below to see if EA Sports captures the real feel of the latest edition of the popular soccer video game. In celebration of the 5th Anniversary of his "Viscromnia" — and to continue his series of collaborations with Outta Space Music, Kenny Hopkins has selected for Ambient Focus a post-rock classic: Atari Teenage Riot's "Exit Planet Dust." This track, like the previous Ambient Focus post "Future Ruins", was chosen by Kenny for its ability to vividly convey the listener's surroundings — a perfect fit in Ambient Focus! "Exit Planet Dust" is the second of three Ambient Focus "When I Was A Kid" tracks, and like the first is a collaboration between Kenny and Outta Space Music. FIFA is one of the most popular games in the world. It's a football (soccer) game where one of the biggest teams in the world, La Liga, will face the match of the day in every version of the game. The game is played as a simulation of a real match. This is the real passion of the game that encourages the players to make the most of every tackle and save! How does EA SPORTS FIFA compare to the real thing? If we talk about FIFA simulation, we have to talk about many factors: the teams, the game play and the options. FIFA 2018 has a very similar game play to the real match. We have: - The goalkeepers who are the players who work at the goal. - The players who are the men who play in real. - The stadiums in which the real matches are played. - The league that has the most matches a day. We have worked on the shadows of the player models and their positions in the actual positions, as well as the real-life players' footsteps. We have created goals that are actually present in the game. There are many other aspects to the game. You can see the authentic, detailed and specific stadiums of the league that you will play in. We have created many algorithms that simulate the movement of players in an accurate way. The sound of the game is the most varied. When you play the real game, you hear the crowd, the referee, the pitches, the whistles and more. We have used all the sound effects that one can imagine during a real match. The graphics are the most advanced too. We have created a high-definition game with 3D models that can be seen in real depth. The goalkeepers appear realistically, as well as the players. The graphics of the stadiums look more like the ones that you can see in the real stadiums and the players have realistic hair and realistic skin. We have created many innovations such as the Tiki-Taka style of play or the dribble technique. Or the new 'fourth player'. How does FIFA feel? The most important thing about the game is its physics, or the way that the player is able to move or behave in a realistic way. The players carry their own weight when they move. FIFA allows you to dribble the ball and run at a high speed without any problem. We have also developed
